Teaching all children, regardless of their needs, together in a single classroom is what "Inclusion" is all about. This panel discussion will cover how inclusion is currently being implemented within SELPA II. Our speakers from all three school districts will encompass general education and special education teachers from different grade levels. They will discuss strategies to include children in mainstreaming opportunities and meaningful inclusion in general education classrooms. They will address issues like communication and training with the general education staff and how they work together to ensure all student's needs are being met. Please come prepared with your questions about how inclusion is being successfully implemented at our schools.
